Dubai property tycoon's bet on fast food cements billionaire status

Mohamed Alabbar is best known as the founder of a Dubai real estate firm that built the world's tallest skyscraper, but it's an investment in fast food that propelled him into the leagues of the region's richest businessmen. Americana Restaurants, the Middle East operator of KFC and Pizza Hut, is now worth $6.24 billion — well above the $3.5 billion it was valued at when it was taken private in 2017 — after pulling off the region's first dual listing. Investors flocked to the IPO with $105 billion of orders, and the stock surged 13 percent in Abu Dhabi on Monday before closing 7.6 percent higher.

Saudi Arabia's GDP grows 8.8 pct year-on-year in third quarter: Statistics authority

Saudi Arabia's economy grew by 8.8 percent in the third quarter of 2022 compared to the same period a year earlier, mainly due to a sharp increase in oil-related activity, according to official estimates released on Sunday. Oil activities grew by 14.2 percent year-on-year in the third quarter, but GDP growth was also boosted by 6 percent growth in non-oil activities, the General Authority of Statistics data showed, though non-oil activity fell 0.5 percent quarter-on-quarter.

Dubai IPO boom sees banks target more Middle East deals in 2023

Dubai is one of a number of IPO hubs that are attracting global banking talent. Dubai, the UAE in general and Saudi Arabia are defying the worst slump in IPOs since the financial crisis as investment bankers covering deals in the Middle East are busier than ever. As listings dwindle in London, Hong Kong and New York, the UAE and Saudi Arabia have emerged as new IPO hotspots buoyed by high oil prices and investor inflows.

IMF says global debt well above pre-COVID levels despite steep 2021 drop

Global public and private debt saw its biggest drop in 70 years in 2021 after reaching record highs because of the impacts of COVID-19, but overall remained well above pre-pandemic levels, the International Monetary Fund said on Monday. In a blog released with its inaugural Global Debt Monitor, the IMF said total public and private debt decreased by 10 percentage points to 247 percent of global gross domestic product (GDP) in 2021 from its peak of 257 percent in 2020. That compares to around 195 percent of GDP in 2007, before the global financial crisis.

UK economy rebounds from royal funeral hit, outlook remains bleak

Britain's economy rebounded in October a little more strongly than expected from September when output was affected by a one-off public holiday to mark the funeral of Queen Elizabeth, but a recession remained on the cards, official data showed on Monday. Gross domestic product grew by 0.5 percent in October after September's 0.6 percent contraction, the Office for National Statistics said.

Gold spooked by hawkish Fed outlook despite smaller rate hike

Gold prices fell on Thursday after the Federal Reserve struck a more hawkish chord than markets were expecting, with the outlook for the yellow metal remaining uncertain on the prospect of higher U.S. interest rates. Still, bullion prices marked a strong rally this week, clearing the key $1,800 resistance level after data showed U.S. inflation eased further in November. Spot gold fell 0.4% to $1,800.79 an ounce, while gold futures fell 0.4% to $1,811.35 an ounce by 20:46 ET (01:46 GMT). Both instruments were still trading up 0.6% for the week.

Oil snaps three-day rally as hawkish Fed offsets positive demand signs

Oil prices fell on Thursday as hawkish signals from the Federal Reserve brewed uncertainty over U.S. economic health and spurred some profit taking after a three-day rally, even as the outlook for demand improved. The International Energy Agency forecast a rebound in oil demand over the next year, as China scales back COVID restrictions and as U.S. and global inflation begins easing. This spurred strong gains in crude prices on Wednesday.
